TONIGHT'S GAME

The Senators welcome the Binghamton Rumble Ponies to FNB Field for the final series between the two clubs during the 2017 regular season. The Senators lost the series opener 3-2 in a rain shortened six inning game, the second consecutive game the Senators have played that was completed in six innings or less. The Rumble Ponies are 5.0 games ahead of Reading for the final playoff spot in the Eastern League Eastern Division, and have won eight of their previous ten games. The Senators are 5-7 against Binghamton this season.

SHORTENED GAMES

The Senators have completed two games in a row that finished in six innings or less after each game was shortened due to rain. Prior to these last two games, the Senators had not played an official game in six innings or less since July 7, 2013 at Bowie in game two of a doubleheader.

LEADING OFF

Victor Robles homered on the first pitch of Thursday's series finale against Reading, giving the Senators their second lead-off home run of the season. Robles, the number one prospect in the Nationals organization and fifth best prospect in minor league baseball according to MLB.com, is eight for his last 17 with two home runs and four RBI and had his first three hit game as a Senators on Wednesday night.

POST ALL-STAR BREAK IMPROVEMENT

Six Senators are hitting over .290 in the 21 games after the break, including Oswaldo Abreu (.298), Jose Marmolejos (.295), Corban Joseph (.309), Victor Robles (.297), Dan Gamache (.352), and Yadiel Hernandez (.387).

RIDICULOUS ROBINSON

Andrew Robinson has not allowed an earned run over the previous eleven innings and opponents are just 5-39 against him over that stretch.

TUESDAY'S ACCOMPLISHMENTS

The Senators came back to win their fifth game of the year when trailing heading into the ninth inning in the series opener against Reading, the most such wins in the Eastern League this season. In addition, the Senators matched a season-high by tallying 18 hits and Dan Gamache became the eighth Senator this season to knock four or more hits in a game after finishing 4-4..

SENATORS STARTING PITCHER

Matthew Crossover takes the bump for the Senators in game two of the series. The left-hander is 1-5 with a 4.74 ERA across 11 starts with the Senators this season. Crossover has made two starts against the Ponies this season, including tossing six shutout innings against the club in game one of a doubleheader on July 2. Crossover earned his first double-A win in his last start against Portland on July 30.

BINGHAMTON STARTING PITCHER

Binghamton counters with starter Marcus Molina. The right-hander is 0-5 with a 3.98 ERA across seven games and six starts this season. Molina is making his first start of his career against the Senators. The 22-year-old has allowed just two runs over 12 innings and two starts since being activated from disabled list on July 25.
